NEW QUESTION: 1

A company is receiving digitally signed SOAP/HTTPS messages to process payment transactions from its business partner and verifies those messages using the Verify action. There is also a requirement to use the signing certificate sent by the partner to encrypt the confidential response message from the company back to the partner. To satisfy this requirement, the solution implementer creates an Encrypt action with the 'Use Dynamically Configured Recipient Certificate' parameter to 'on'. Which statement related to the scenario above is false?
A. The certificate created in the 'Recipient Certificate' field takes precedence over the dynamic certificate input option.

- B. The encrypt action will use the certificate defined in the variable `var://context/transaction/encrypting-cert` to encrypt the message.
- C. The public certificate used to encrypt the outgoing message will be automatically extracted from the incoming signed message while the signature is verified in the Verify action.
- D. The dynamic certificate used to encrypt the outgoing message can be user-defined using the syntax `'name:CertificateObjectName'`
