NEW QUESTION: 1

A security analyst's company uses RADIUS to support a remote sales staff of more than 700 people. The Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) asked to have IPsec using ESP and 3DES enabled to ensure the confidentiality of the communication as per RFC 3162. After the implementation was complete, many sales users reported latency issues and other performance issues when attempting to connect remotely. Which of the following is occurring?

- A. The device running RADIUS lacks sufficient RAM and processing power to handle ESP implementation.
- B. RFC 3162 is known to cause significant performance problems.
- C. The IPsec implementation has significantly increased the amount of bandwidth needed.
- D. The implementation should have used AES instead of 3DES.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2

You notice that the elapsed time for an important database scheduler Job is unacceptably long.

The job belongs to a scheduler job class and window.

Which two actions would reduce the job's elapsed time?

- A. Increasing the job's relative priority within the Job class to which it belongs
- B. Increasing the priority of the scheduler window to which the job belongs
- C. Increasing the priority of the job class to which the job belongs
- D. Increasing the value of the JOB_QUEUE_PROCESSES parameter
- E. Moving the job to an existing higher priority scheduler window with the same schedule and duration
- F. Increasing the resource allocation for the consumer group mapped to the scheduler job's job class within the plan mapped to the scheduler window

Answer: A,F

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

B: Job priorities are used only to prioritize among jobs in the same class.

Note: Group jobs for prioritization

Within the same job class, you can assign priority values of 1-5 to individual jobs so that if two jobs in the class are scheduled to start at the same time, the one with the higher priority takes precedence. This ensures that you do not have a less important job preventing the timely completion of a more important one.

C: Set resource allocation for member jobs

Job classes provide the link between the Database Resource Manager and the Scheduler, because each job class can specify a resource consumer group as an attribute. Member jobs then belong to the specified consumer group and are assigned resources according to settings in the current resource plan.

NEW QUESTION: 3
